CHIEFTAIN

C.C.S.

Cambridge, New York

Dedication

In this age of revolution, war seems to be a permanent and inevitable fact to be faced by responsible people. The expanding war in Viet Nam is becoming a very important issue that cannot be ignored by society. There is a principle behind the war that every citizen should be aware of and support. It seems to be a wasteful and futile struggle against the mighty and formidable force of Communism but American lives are being spent in the fight to secure the rights of democracy for the people of the world.

It is the wish of the class of 1966, as a gesture of acknowledgement and gratitude that the '66 Chieftain be dedicated to those Americans who have given their lives, talents and energies in the Viet Nam struggle. We also express our deepest sympathy to the wives, children, and parents of those men who have given their life for what they believed was right. We dedicate this book to them and to those of us who will be called on to serve their country.

In Gratitude

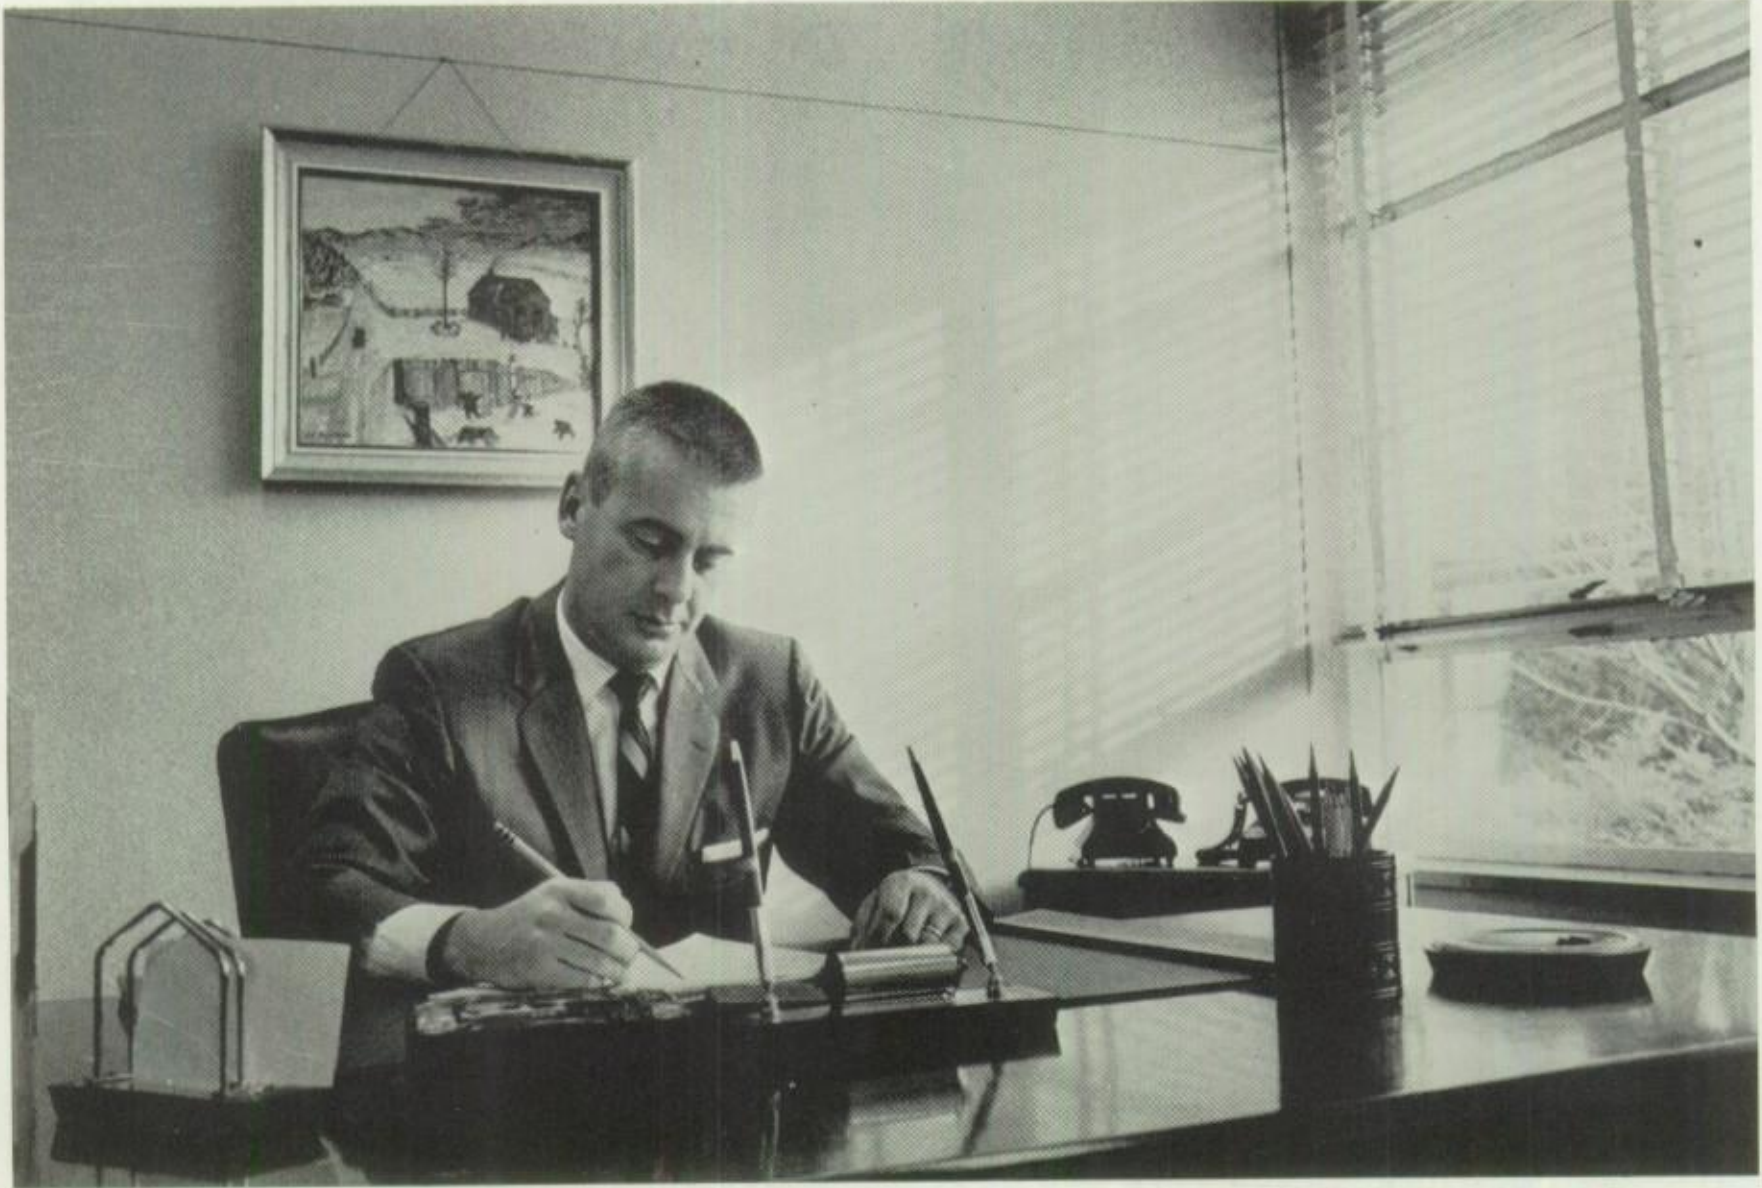

STANDING: Mr. Leydan, Mr. Stinner, Mr. Peterson SEATED: Miss Weaver, Mr. Fressie, Mr. Dawson; Yearbook Advisor.

With special appreciation, we, the class of '66, would like to thank our advisors for the time and effort spent in our behalf. We would like to express our gratitude for the many times they have helped us over the rough spots, as we have reached this final year at Cambridge Central.

We would also like to give a special thanks to Mr. Dawson, our yearbook advisor. He has spent many hours helping us to make our yearbook the best, and offering his helpful suggestions.

To the Class of 1966

Graduating always leaves a student with a feeling of satisfaction as you appraise your individual achievements. It also leaves school people, who have some responsibility for the education you have received, with a feeling of uncertainty. Have we given you every opportunity to receive an education which has prepared you for this rapidly moving society?

Never in history has there been so much emphasis on the universal education of every individual. The vast amount of new knowledge, the increasing freedom of liberties, the lack of restrictions in conduct, place added responsibility with the individual and make it imperative that all students be educated to accept these responsibilities.

Educators are striving for excellence in education. Schools are using new media such as television, language teaching machines and all forms of audio-visual equipment to encourage and stimulate the learning process. With the aid of research by the psychologist, educators are experimenting with theories about how people learn. Curriculum experts are revising the course content and methods of teaching in all subject fields. Education is constantly attempting to more effectively and efficiently prepare students to live in a society of changing problems.

Without the benefits of the New Education, I feel sure you have received a reliable foundation. Your future will, to a large extent, be dependent upon how you apply your acquired skills and abilities to develop your learning and experience. Since your formal high school education is complete, I hope your achievements of today will only encourage challenges for you tomorrow.

Our Foreign Exchange Student Dieter Kampf

It is very hard for me to write these lines because they mean that my year as a foreign student here in Cambridge is almost over.

Through the great hospitality of the Americans, I was able to get to know many people. This was besides the school, the most important thing to me. I picked up many American customs and manners-- and I like using them. I learned the problems of the Americans and in many matters I learned to think like an American.

I think I have learned that no way of life is better than another one. Most bad feelings between countries arise because of ignorance. All differences between countries have their good points, and if we learn these points we will understand each other.

I will never forget and always miss Cambridge, C.C.S., and my American friends.

The 1965 Cambridge football team entered the 1965 season with good material and stiff competition. With the exception of Greenwich, the wins were runaways and the losses were close. The team consisted of a great backfield, assisted by a powerful line, including seniors John McCarty, Roger Holcomb, Steven Schnell, Ron Dawley, Bob Stinner, and Lloyd Peters.

The Cambridge girls marched onto the hockey field in 1965 with a will to win and did just that. These girls defeated Salem and Greenwich in afterschool games and were undefeated in the annual playday at Hoosick Falls.

In February, Cambridge played host to the County basketball playday. Cambridge tied for third place and through the cooperation of the teams and committees, the day was a success.

The 65-66 basketball team was not hurt much by the loss of the 1965 seniors graduating, but the loss of Larry Doxsey after the 1965 season greatly affected the team. With six seniors-five with previous varsity experience-plus four juniors and two sophomores the team was good, but not good enough to win much in a league with great competition. The team came within ten points of every team in the league at least once. The record 1-17 was slightly better than the 0-16 record, the victory was a 68-59 victory over arch-rival, Salem.

The Junior Varsity was much more successful than the Varsity. Mr. Hayden's Little Indians won eleven games and lost seven. With freshmen doing the majority of the playing, the basketball fortunes of Cambridge Central should be brighter in the future.

The track team of 1965 had a fairly successful season; winning three meets while losing only two.

Tim White broke the school record consistently in the discus, and twice in the hop skip jump. Bob Harrington won the class C shotput title for second year in succession.

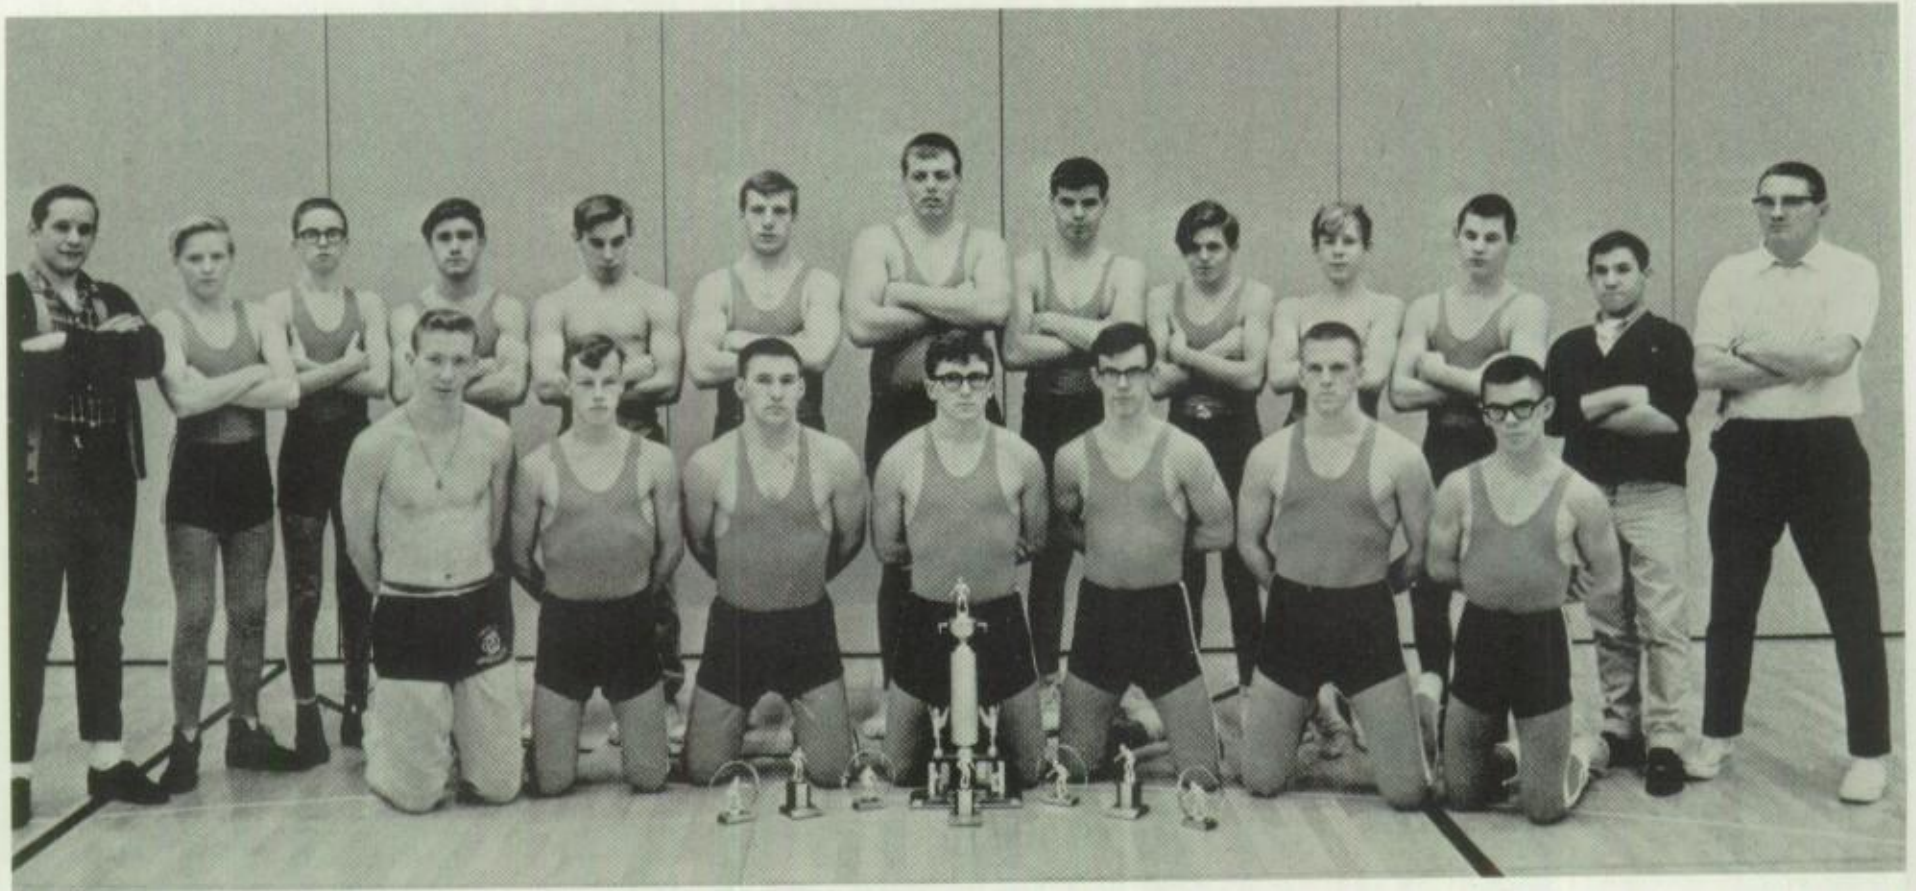

Seniors Tim White and Tom Severson graduated in June, along with John Hunt, who won consistently in the 440.

With this comparatively small loss of personnel, the 1966 track team should be just as successful.

Under the direction of Milt Tesar, the Cambridge Matmen finished with an extremely successful season by winning the Washington County Championship. During the season the wrestling team, in this newly formed sport, stimulated a great deal of interest throughout the school and community. The seniors leaving who contributed their talents to this fascinating sport were Lloyd Peters, Paul Virtue, Charles Marsh, Donald Hamilton, Robert Stinner, and Captain; George Ridler. C.C.S. is proud of their wrestling team and wish it continued success.

SENIORS

Class History

The class of '66 has spent thirteen fleeting years at CCS and will soon be going through its doors as students for the last time. In September 1953 we entered kindergarten and began our elementary years of education to prepare us for high school.

In junior high we began our class government and activities. In seventh grade we had a dance and two successful foodsales. We sold Christmas cards during the fall of eighth grade. Going into high school we had a substantial amount of money in the treasury.

As ninth graders we gained the privilege of being upstairs for classes. Now we could also attend all upper class functions. Before the addition was completed, Miss Weir had one ninth grade homeroom downstairs.

During our sophomore year the new gym was completed in time for the last basketball game of the season. This was the year of our only play, "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills" produced under the direction of Miss Loerch.

The pace quickened as we proceeded through our eleventh year. We broke previous sales records during our magazine campaign. We were kept busy at football games with the hot dog concession. We received our class rings in time for Christmas. Suddenly we had to think seriously about going to college and took College Boards in May and in July.

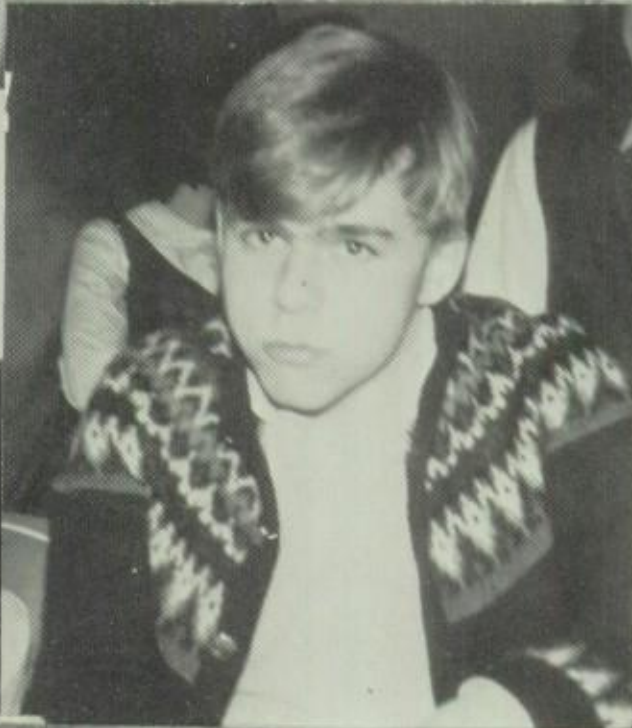

By the end of April we had already begun detailed plans for our Junior Prom on June 5, 1965. The whole class worked steadily for a month to create the most beautiful (and most expensive) prom ever. The theme "Gone With the Wind" was completed with a realistic Southern Plantation setting.

We became Seniors before we realized it and an even busier year began. Again we operated the concession during the football games. Early this year, we applied to colleges and took more College Boards in December. Our Christmas Ball, "Whispering Pines" was another success. It was unique in that it had a grand march which is the usual feature of the Prom.

We are now eagerly awaiting replies from the colleges of our choice and anticipating receiving our diplomas. The Class of '66 will regretfully but anxiously leave Cambridge Central in June.
